

Singer-songwriter | South African Music Award winner

A new chapter begins after a decade-long hiatus

Melanie Lowe is an award-winning singer-songwriter from Durban, South Africa. She first gained national recognition as a finalist on Idols South Africa. Her duet “Cabin Fever” won a South African Music Award (SAMA), and her album Unspoken Truth was nominated for a SAMA.

She has since built a respected career as a recording and performing artist known for her powerful live vocals and expressive songwriting. She is now entering a new phase of her career, expanding her digital presence alongside a return to live performances.

- South African Music Award (SAMA) winner

- Television appearances, including _____
_____ Top Billing, Noot vir Noot and

- Shared stages with Westlife, Katie Melua and Sam Bettens (K's Choice), as well as many South African artists

- Performed at The Bedford and Ronny Scott's (UK)

Mellow Music Studios, a space created by Melanie, is a base for her own rehearsals, online guitar lessons and the creation of performance content, as well as preparation for upcoming live shows.

The studio will also be available to independent musicians as a rehearsal and content creation space, providing access to a dedicated performance setup where artists can rehearse, collaborate and create high-quality performance videos for their social media platforms while developing material for live shows and online audiences using professional equipment.

Listen to Melanie's music below:

